HUGUELET STEPS OUT As Aeronuts Shout.

Among cries and shouts of the of the roudious 'nuts, Milt Huguelet, the Aeronuts pride and joy, stepped out with the rest of the gang, Fri., Dec.2. After the Aeronut victory dinner, which consisted of chcp seuy, was presented with a permanentof the Bloomingdale trophy, won in '38'.

After the feed, the gang went to the State Lake and enjoy an amusing movie and stage show. When the movie was over, the gang really had fun. The fun consist- ing of introducing Milt to several girls, under protest, being pursued by "grandma", a tipsy bleach blond, somewhat ancient in appearance and being chased for bloeks by an old colored gentlem man who seemed to have a touch of phycosis. (Tetched to you, muggs.) After painting red and green stripes all over the town we finnally decided to give it back to the city and go home. All in all we all had a swell time and hope we can have another some time soon.

Well, here we are, all ready for a swell evening of skating. Having planned this party for a long time we're all here to help make a success of it. Now don't FALL TOO many times as you're all expected to enjoy yourself. This party, arranged by Ed Lidgard and Pete Vacco (both confessed to have tested the hardness of the floor and not with skates) was mainly to replentish the fast diminishing treasury of the Aeronuts. It is hoped you will all enjoy the act to be put on. In closing the Aeronuts want to thank Frank Nekinken for his help through which the arrange- ments were able to be completed. Now forget all your troubles and lets all have a good time.

Well, what do you know. Here the paper is all planed out and I end up with an enty space. Its terrible. In fact its worse than that. This space should be filled up with someone's ar- ticle. Now where could that article be. I never recieved it. Now lets have some articles or cartoons or something so I'll have something to fill your bulletin with.
